

2013 Sustainable Enterprise Conference - Commerce for a Sustainable Future

Thank you for your interest in the Sustainable Enterprise Conference: Commerce for a Sustainable Future. On April 26, 2013 in Rohnert Park, California we bring together Northern California leaders, including:

- Executives, managers and individuals who set long-term direction
- Entrepreneurs who are starting or plan to start new enterprises
- Professionals and consultants who engaged in sustainable enterprise activities
- Educators and students with an interest in sustainable enterprise
- Officials who influence, design and implement public policy
- Individuals ready to step into action around the sustainability of their enterprise

2013 Theme: Commerce for a Sustainable Future

For 2013 our program team is seeking presentations that feature business opportunities and applications for sustainability in organizations.

Open Call for Workshop Proposals - February 8, 2013 Deadline

Show our audience where investments in sustainability can have triple bottom line results. Proposals that are practical, interactive and offer lessons learned from your experience are welcomed.

Our goal is to provide workshops that stimulate discovery of what participants can do to develop sustainable practices in their enterprises, whether business, government, nonprofit or educational. Workshops should address one or more of the conference objectives:

- Discover ways that sustainability can drive economic development.
- Understand the North Bay economy and how organizations use sustainability to gain an advantage.
- Describe innovations for greater organizational sustainability.
- Identify opportunities for enterprises to optimize their resource management.
- Learn to identify proven attributes of sustainable practices.
- Present sustainability opportunities for Northern California organizations.

We are accepting proposals for speakers and workshops until February 8, 2013
